

Holland Startup is currently looking for an ENTREPRENEUR IN RESIDENCE

Holland Startup is a Venture Builder with its headquarters in the centre of Utrecht. Together with young entrepreneurs and a team of experts we build digital companies that solve major problems faced by the world we live in. We combine an “idea library” with ideas pre-tested in the market, idea’s pitched by Entrepreneurs in Residence, a talent pool of young entrepreneurs recruited from top Dutch universities and an 18 month standardized company building process to turns any validated idea into a successful business.

We are currently seeking exceptional candidates to join our growing community as an Entrepreneur in Residence. As an Entrepreneur in Residence you will work on finding and validating your own idea, or an idea from our idea library, together with a partner. Using the LEAN Startup methodology, you will iteratively test and (in)validate idea’s in the market. When you have found and validated an idea you love, you will become co-founder of your startup.

Holland Startup is a vibrant community where entrepreneurs help each other to bring out the best in themselves and others on the road to building a successful startup. We support our entrepreneurs to ensure success and mitigate the risks of building a startup. Some of the ways we ensure success are by using a standardised building process, having a big investor network that is ready to invest in validated ideas, focusing on teambuilding and personal development, teaching necessary skills through workshops and meet & greets with successful entrepreneurs and providing access to our vast network of experts and advisors.
